

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

The mid-term elections earlier this month saw the Democrats taking control of the Congress. The Senators are meeting for their lame duck session; however, nothing substantive is expected to be taken up on comprehensive immigration reform during this session. Over 900 American companies, schools, trade organizations and hospitals submitted a letter to the Congress requesting the law makers to address the crisis facing American businesses as a result of "H-1B blackout" and employment-based Green Cards. The letter states that every day passing without access to "high-skilled workers" is a lost opportunity for growth, productivity and innovation. Keep watching the Immigration News of our website for the latest updates on the Congress action, as and when it happens.

Starting the series of articles on our recent seminars and workshops in various cities of India, this month we bring you excerpts from our Attorney's diaries regarding his visit to New Delhi, the capital of India.

I am sure the In Focus section of this month's newsletter, with our attorney's travel experiences, will make an interesting reading. Click here to view a few videos from our events in India.

We often receive queries from our corporate clients as well as individuals who enter the U.S. on a work visa regarding the procedure of applying for a Social Security Number (SSN) and whether the employees can start working for the company without waiting for the actual allotment of SSN. This month's Immigration Article discusses the procedure of obtaining SSN and how it affects the hiring or employment of a foreign worker.

Rudolf Inamarga deserves congratulations for winning last month's Immigration Quiz. Those who missed giving correct responses to the question last time can view this month's article on SSN for more details. Now that the midterm elections in the U.S. are over, we would like to have our readers' opinion on how important they think immigration issues influenced the voters' decision. Don't forget to share your opinion in this month's immigration poll.

See you next month with all the updates from the world of immigration.

I am Chinese citizen working with a Chinese company as a Sales Executive since past three months. I hold a 3-year bachelor's degree in commerce from a Chinese University. My company wants me to work as Business Development Executive for the U.S. office. I am confused whether I can use an L-1 or H-1B visa. Do I qualify for both? Which one is the better option?

The Question:

I entered the U.S. on an H-1B visa yesterday and have applied for Social Security Number (SSN). It seems getting a SSN will take at least a month. Do I need to wait for SSN to start working with my employer?

The Winning Response:

No, you need not. You can start working without the SSN. Your employer will deduct all necessary deductions from your salary/wage, and temporarily put them aside

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

1. I am a musician and heard about O-1 visa from a friend. What is O-1 visa and what kind of advisory opinion is required to file for O-1 visa?

The O-1 visa is a nonimmigrant visa which allows foreign nationals with extraordinary ability in one of the following three categories to enter into the U.S. and engage in official activity:

- Sciences, education, business, and athletics
- Arts
- Motion picture or TV industries

Prior to filing the O-1 petition with the USCIS, you should obtain an advisory opinion from an appropriate consulting entity, such as a peer group, labor organization, or management organization. The advisory opinion is to state whether you qualify as an alien of extraordinary ability and whether such extraordinary abilities are required for the activities to be undertaken by you.

2. Who is eligible to apply for EB-1 visa as an 'outstanding professor or researcher'?

To qualify for an EB-1 visa as an 'outstanding professor or researcher' you must be a foreign national who:

- Is recognized internationally as 'outstanding' in a specific academic area
- Possesses at least three years of experience in teaching or research in the academic area, and
- Seeks to enter the U.S. for a:
 - Tenured position (or tenure-track position) within a university or institution of higher education to teach in the academic area; or
 - Comparable position with a university or institution of higher education to conduct research in the area; or
 - Comparable position to conduct research in the area with a department, division, or institute of a private employer, if the department, division, or institute employs at least three persons full time in research activities and has achieved documented accomplishments in an academic field

SUCCESS STORIES

"I'd like to express sincere and heartfelt thanks to both of you and the Visa Pro team for successfully preparing the case that led to my wife getting the greenlight on her [K-3 visa] to the USA. This is the best news I have received this year, and without a doubt the most positive news I have received since I got married to Irina last year.

Thank you so much for helping me and Irina to navigate through the maelstrom of legal paperwork required for processing an immigration visa. I am certain that your help was critical to the success of our case and we are so happy that we followed your advice.

May God bless you all mightily for the outstanding work you do to bring lives together. I will happily refer you to anyone that comes into my path requiring immigration visa services."

Yours most thankfully and respectfully,

Steve & Irina Latham,
United States
